EXPLANATION OF H. F. 387

This bill has been drawn to provide fees to the justices of peace and mayors for forwarding certain records of convictions in their courts to the department of public safety as already required by statute. The department cannot efficiently administer a driver improvement program and carry out other legislative mandates already enacted into law, unless it receives such records. The justices and mayors are reluctant to furnish such records without pay for their services or postage. Recommended by the Iowa Safety Congress.
